The Pajama Men in: ‘Versus Vs. Versus’ at Annex Theatre

Internationally acclaimed comedy theatre duo storms Seattle

Presented by Infinity Live Productions, Sponsored by Sketchfest Seattle

The most common term used to describe the unparalleled spectacle that is a Pajama Men show is ‘indescribable.’ Mark Chavez and Shenoah Allen are renowned for swapping and changing characters in a split second, weaving together multiple story lines, and engaging in some of the most unique and hilarious physical comedy you will ever see.

Over the past seven years, the Pajama Men have received numerous comedy awards, critical acclaim, and uproarious audience response across North America and the UK. They are the first and only independent act represented by Chicago’s Second City and have been produced in such esteemed venues as Second City and Steppenwolf in Chicago and The Samuel Becket Theatre in Dublin.

In Seattle, The Pajama Men will be sound-tracked by the live music stylings of Luminous Craft (a.k.a. Dominick Campbell), the musical love child of Arlo Guthrie, Jim Croce, and James Taylor. Campbell, formerly of the indie folk duo, ‘The Foxgloves Family,’ and the lo-fi punk trio, ‘The Blast Rocks!!!’ has been working with the The Pajama Men for the past year, most recently writing the music for their critically acclaimed Versus Vs. Versus.
